Dear Andrew:

I am writing you this letter to commend your company, the project manager, and workers involved in our lighting project. They all performed above expectations in all aspects of the project. Constant communication, customer interaction, attention to detail, and also the highest quality workmanship performed by the installers were key factors that made this project painless. I was apprehensive at first being able to facilitate this project due to our three shift operation without shutting our lines down, but all was done with minimal to no shutdowns at all. Again professionalism, commitment to detail and a quality installation made this project a win for all.
